VOL. LXXVIII—No. 211 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 24, 1949. PRICE FIVE CENTS

Bids Are Opened By Trustees for School Addition

Composite Bid of $380,520 Is Lower Than State Estimate, but Higher Than Anticipated by Board; Low Amounts Accepted

Bids for construction of an addition to the Kingston Vocational School were opened Thursday afternoon and at a meeting of the Board of Education held later the low bids were accepted by the board, subject to final approval by Architect Gerard Betz, the Building Committee of the Board and the corporation council.

General construction contract of I. & O. A. Slutzky of Hunter for $278,234 was low. The heating and ventilating low bidder was George McKenally Company of Newburgh at $31,546. The McKenally Company was also low bidder for plumbing at $20,900 and Joe E. O'Connor, Inc., of Rosendale was low bidder for electrical work at $49,780.35.

The total of the low bids for the job amounts to $380,520.35, considerably lower than the architect's estimate of the work but somewhat higher than had been anticipated by the Board at the time the work was first contemplated.

Other bids were:

General construction, G. D. Campbell Building Company, $299,000. W. W. Kingston Co., Inc., $386,847. Miller & Gaynor $307,882. Three other bidders returned plans without a bid.

Heating and ventilating, C. B. Strain and Son $31,690. One set of plans returned.

Plumbing contract, C. B. Strain & Son $23,360. Two sets plans returned without bid.

Electrical contract, R. D. Electric Inc., $55,967. John Krueher $64,980. Walter Robinson $59,300. Frank H. McEnaney Inc., $53,900.

Repair Work Gets Board Approval
School 5 Playground to Be Graded and Resurfaced

A program of work to be done in various school buildings during the coming season was approved by the Board of Education Thursday night at special meeting.

One of the biggest projects planned is the grading and resurfacing of the playground area about No. 5 school. This area is rough, covered with loose sand and ash, and badly drained. An item of $21,000 was placed in the building repair budget for this work.

Another item of considerable amount was that for accounting treatment of the M.J.M. gymnasium. It is estimated this work (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Child Is Slain
Hangout Areas Checked for Sex Fiend Killer of Small Boy

Lansing, Mich., June 24 (AP)—Police combed hangout areas of Michigan's capital city today for a "sex fiend" in a small boy's brutal slaying.

A manhunt was launched after the discovery of the body of four-year-old Walter Eaton, his throat slashed, in a downtown storage and equipment lot.

Evidently the killer's weapon was a broken beer bottle, police said.

Dr. Charles E. Black, pathologist, said that Walter, a construction worker's son, had been criminally attacked "while he was either dead or dying."

Police said the boy evidently had wandered away from an older sister, Emily, 11, when they were returning home from a visit to a relative last night.

Walter was slain barely a block from his home in the downtown area.

Public Hearing Is Set for Monday, Then Goes to Council

A tentative budget amounting to $1,412,420.87 was approved by the Board of Education at a special meeting last evening. This temporary budget will be submitted to the people of the city at a public hearing on Monday, June 27, at 8 o'clock at the high school and, if finally approved by the board at a meeting to be held on June 30, the proposed budget will be submitted to the Common Council for its action on Tuesday, July 5.

The estimated revenue from state aid, tuition, cash balance, etc., is $917,079.36, leaving the amount to be raised by direct taxation $495,341.51 plus the 1 per cent City of Kingston tax collection fee, or a total to be raised of $500,294.93.

Less Than 1948
Last year the tax rate was $20.68 but an overall increase of 33 1/3 per cent in assessments which became effective as of January 1, 1949, prevents a fair comparison of last year's school tax rate with the new rate which will be $15.312 for $1,000 of assessed valuation. Basing the new rate on last year's assessed valuation in order to make a comparison, the rate for 1949-1950 school year is 55 cents per thousand lower than last year. Thus the taxpayer's actual school tax bill will be slightly less than last year's bill.

Greek Premier Dies
Athens, June 24 (AP)—Themistokles, premier of Greece, died today. He was 88 years old. Death occurred at his summer residence at 4:15 p. m. although he had been ill and was near death last fall, his death at this time was unexpected. Sophoulis, a key figure in Greek politics for a half century, had been premier since September 7, 1947, despite the turmoil of Greek politics occasioned by the civil war with the Communist guerrillas in the north.

Drouth Is Damaging Most Crops

(By The Associated Press)
Sunny skies cast a dark shadow over dry-stricken farm lands in parts of the nation's northeastern states today.

The continued warm and rainless weather in lower New England, New Jersey and New York state threatened heavy damage to farm crops.

No relief from the long hot spell appeared in sight. Some areas have had no rain for more than a month. Temperatures also have been running high during the rainless period, causing damage to many fruit and vegetable crops. Water shortages also have been reported in parts of the drouth-stricken area.

New Jersey's drouth was 33 days old, and no rain was forecast. Crops in the state's largest agricultural county, Burlington, have "definitely reached the critical stage," the county farm agent said. He said potatoes, sweet corn, snap beans and asparagus have suffered most damage from the drouth. Crop damage in New Jersey was estimated at more than $10,000,000.

Five communities near New Brunswick, N. J., have banned lawn sprinkling and car washing. Conditions in the heavily wooded areas in New York state and in much of New England remained hazardous. There have been 86 fires in the Adirondack mountains since June 11. Ten minor fires broke out yesterday in the lower Adirondacks. Rain in the northern Adirondacks earlier this week brought only temporary relief, the State Conservation Department said.

Warmer, and more humid weather was today's forecast for New York state. Some showers were predicted. Temperatures in the high 80's were expected, the same as forecast for most of New England. Crops in Massachusetts, already damaged at an estimated $5,000,000 are badly in need of rain.

In Maine, dry windy weather increased fire hazards in the forests. Forestry officials expressed fear that a few more days of similar weather will erase all the benefits of rain earlier this week the state ban on smoking and fire-building in wooded areas remained in effect.

Damage to crops also were reported today in Nebraska from severe wind, rain and hail storms. The unusually dry spring has hurt crops in unirrigated areas of eastern Oregon.

Water shortages are being experienced in California because of the heat at Arcadia, Tuljuna and La Crescenta, in the foothills of the coastal range, and Manhattan Beach, on the Pacific ocean.

Central Hudson Dividend
The Board of Directors of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, at its monthly meeting held at its South Road office, Poughkeepsie, today declared a dividend of $1.12 1/2 per share on its 4 1/2 per cent cumulative preferred stock and one dollar eighteen and three-quarters cents per share on its 4.75 per cent cumulative preferred stock, both payable July 1, 1949, to holders of record June 24, 1949; also a dividend of 13 cents per share on its common stock, payable August 1, 1949, to holders of record July 11, 1949.

Body Found in River
Albany, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—The body of a man was found floating in the Hudson river near the Port of Albany last night. Authorities said the body might be that of John Saunders, 51, of Brooklyn, a dredge hand reported missing since Tuesday. The body was at the port. He was an employee of the Moran Towing and Transportation Company of New York. Fingerprints were to be checked today for identification, Coroner J. Gregory Nealon said.

Sentence Suspended
Peter Scully, 44, of 58 Cedar street, was arrested at 12:03 a. m. today by Carrie Mills at the above address in a third degree assault charge. Arraigned before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, he was fined $5 the payment of which was suspended pending good behavior.

Wicks, Heck To Pick State Committees

Albany, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—About 75 lawmakers convene in the capitol today to organize seven new joint legislative committees, a new state commission and to reorganize 13 old joint committees.

Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, Senate majority leader, and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady preside at the session. They make the appointments.

The 1949 Republican-controlled Legislature authorized the agencies and appropriated a total of $607,500 for their use.

Of this, $350,000 was set aside for continuation of 13 existing joint committees. The seven new committees received a total of $132,500. The new commission, created to study water supply needs from the Niagara river easterly through Monroe county, was given $125,000.

Seven other commissions, continued by the Legislature and already organized, received a total of $1,805,000. They do not meet today.

Legislative members of the committees and commission are appointed by Wicks and Heck.

Few changes will be made in the chairmen or members of the old joint committees.

Approximately 75 legislators, who have been notified in advance of their appointment or reappointment, are expected to attend the meetings.

Membership lists of all the groups will be released after the meeting.

Assemblyman Jacob E. Hollinger, Middleport Republican who sponsored the bill creating the Niagara Commission, is the likely choice for chairman.

Legislators who introduce resolutions creating a new joint committee often get the nod as chairmen.

The new joint committees, their sponsors and the appropriation for each are:

To study the feasibility of regulating comic books, Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, Brewster Republican, $15,000; revues of highways and canals, Stephens, $20,000; preservation of historical sites, Assemblyman Judson L. Regents Exams Are Attacked as Cruel, Needless

Parents, Teachers Assail Tests as Waste of Time and Money, Stupid and Asinine

New York, June 24 (AP)—The New York State Regents examinations, taken this week by 700,000 high school seniors in the state, were under attack today as "educational straitjackets," "cruel" and "unnecessary."

One statement, made by the United Parents Association, said the tests needlessly duplicate regular school examinations and should be abolished. The association said the examinations were a waste of the "children's time and energies and of the taxpayers' money."

Examinations in plane and solid geometry, said several mathematics teachers, contained questions which were "stupid and asinine." The teachers declined use of their names for professional reasons.

A Manhattan high school department chairman criticized two examples in the solid geometry examination. One problem read:

"Before sharpening a pencil was in the form of a right circular cylinder seven inches long and one-quarter of an inch in diameter. Sharpening it to a conical point reduced its overall length to six and seven-eighths inches, with the cylindrical part becoming six inches long. Find to the nearest hundredth of a cubic inch the volume of the material removed. (Use P1-3.14.)"

The question is worth 10 credits. The chairman said "We simply cannot believe that any person of supposed common sense and intelligence, let alone a supervisor of mathematics for the great state of New York, could have permitted such tripe to appear on an examination."

David I. Ashe, president of the Parents Association, said that "from the data available to use, it appears that New York is the only state that still gives this type of state-wide examinations."

County Convention Of Legion Monday

Auxiliary Also Scheduled to Meet in Port Ewen; Esopus Post Host

The annual convention of Ulster County American Legion and a meeting of its Ladies' Auxiliary is scheduled for Monday, June 27, in Port Ewen, with Town of Esopus Post 1298, and its Women's Unit as hosts.

Starting time of the two meetings is 8 p. m. The Legionnaires convention is to take place in the Town of Esopus Auditorium, and the Auxiliary conference in the Legion Memorial Home on Emogene street.

After the business sessions there will be a social with refreshments at the Memorial Home for the county Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary. A good time is promised by the hosts from the Town of Esopus.

The main business Monday will be election of officers by the county Legion, and appointment of delegates to the state convention in Buffalo set for July 28-29-30.

County Commander Peter Williams of Lamoree-Hackett Post, Saugerties, will preside over the men's business meeting, and Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck of Woodstock Auxiliary Unit, county chairman, will occupy the chair for the women's session.

All members of Town of Esopus Post and the Auxiliary are urged to attend the Monday meetings to assist in welcoming the large number of visitors expected to attend.

Commander Russell Maurer of Esopus Post has appointed as chairman of the welcoming committee John Coniglio and Edgar Maurer. They are planning an elaborate program.

The annual bazaar of Town of Esopus Post is to be held on the Memorial grounds, July 21, 22 and 23, with plans in charge of Co-chairmen Reuben Gullian and Edgar Maurer. Commander Maurer anticipates that the affair will be more elaborate and successful than in 1948.

Esopus Post will sponsor a non-profit clam bake on August 21 for its members and their families. If the attendance warrants, a public bake will be held at a later date.

At present Commander Maurer is getting ready for an intensive membership campaign and urges that all veterans eligible to join the Legion sign up for 1949.

French Join British Regarding Work by Anti-Red Strikers in Clearing Yards

Agreement Needed

Anglo Position Is Those Who Rule Reichsbahn Must Approve

Berlin, June 24 (AP)—The Russian-directed Reichsbahn said today it will refuse to accept any trains run on an emergency basis by West Berlin rail strikers.

The anti-Communist strikers had offered to clear the way toward restoring interzonal freight movements by trying to clear the clogged marshalling yards in the U. S. and French sectors, where dozens of trains have lain idle since the stoppage was called five weeks ago.

The idea, presumably, was that clearing the yards would make it possible for the Russians to allow trains to come in from the western zones of Germany.

The idea was reported to have the approval of the American Military Government. The British termed the idea a lot of nonsense and forbade strikers to make any such move in the British sector.

Later the British, while making it clear their policy against emergency services has not changed, relaxed their initial order.

They said strikers would be permitted to enter yards to repair installations and clear yard lines. This, said the British, was only allowed to prepare for operation provided the Reichsbahn agrees to the emergency program.

A French spokesman said their attitude was similar to the British stand.

"The movement of trains would be impossible without agreement by the Reichsbahn," he said, "but if the Reichsbahn agrees we will accept the service."

Berlin Reichsbahn Chief Herbert Schmidtke said if the strikers want to work they should report to the Reichsbahn and not try to set up an emergency service.

Schmidtke declared:

"If a burglar breaks into your home and then tries to sell your own property back to you would you buy from him? The West Berlin police should keep the strikers off installations and order the men back to work. And those who play the deuce with our material must be held responsible."

Freeman Ad Packs In Customers for Fabric Mart, Inc.

Response to a "Dollar Day" sale at the Kingston Fabric Mart, Inc., 39 North Front street, was so great that the doors had to be closed for a half-hour shortly after noon Thursday to keep the store from becoming overcrowded the management reported.

The large number of customers was attributed by Robert Burke, manager, to the advertisement which appeared in Wednesday's Freeman. He said one of the advertised items which received a large number of inquiries was the sale of pure silk prints, ordinarily sold to $4.98 a yard, for $1 a yard.

The sale will continue through Saturday, and includes slip covers, sets, drapery and other fabrics.

Man, 27, Is Held in Iowa On Charge of Killing Woman

Morrison, Ia., June 24 (AP)—A young man who authorities said admitted to his mother he killed and fendishly mutilated a pretty 22-year-old woman, was held in the Grundy county jail today.

Sheriff John A. Meyer said he would question the man, Edward J. (Buddy) Beckwith, 27, of Morrison, and probably would file a first degree murder charge against him today.

The nearly nude body of Mrs. Emma Jean Stahlhut, mother of a 13-month-old son was found early yesterday morning by her husband, Harvey, in a large walk-in refrigerator of the tavern they operated here.

Both breasts had been cut off the body, her throat cut from ear to ear, and her body cut open "down the middle," the sheriff said. There also were two stab wounds in the heart. One of the breasts, Meyer said, was found in a bloody slip and brassiere tangled around her neck and shoulders.

Beckwith was identified by three patrons as the last person besides Mrs. Stahlhut remaining in the tavern when they left Wednesday night. He was seized by a posse of four men in a corn field near Morrison, a community of 150 persons in North Central Iowa. He offered no resistance.

Sheriff Meyer said Beckwith when found was lying face down in a muddy cornfield and was "soaking wet" from heavy rain which had fallen shortly before.

Beckwith asked the posse, led by Town Marshall Jesse Algood, of Morrison, if he might be allowed to spend the night with his mother. The request was denied.

At the Grundy county jail in nearby Grundy Center, Beckwith asked Sheriff Meyer not to let anyone see him. Beckwith, who told the sheriff he had nothing to say, died without regaining consciousness. (Continued on Page 15, Col. 5)

Truman Asks Postmaster Jobs Come Out of Politics

Selections Would Give Postmaster General Selection Right in Future

Washington, June 24 (AP)—President Truman today recommended legislation aimed at removing postmaster appointments from politics.

In a special message to Congress he urged enactment of a law to authorize the postmaster general to appoint all postmasters subject only to provisions of the civil service and classification acts.

This would mean that the time-honored custom of the President appointing first, second and third class postmasters of whom there are some 21,000—would be abandoned. Senate confirmation of the Presidential choices likewise would no longer be a part of the routine.

Postmasters theoretically have been under the civil service system for some time. But legislators frequently have had a hand in picking one of the first three passing the examination and, furthermore, the Senate for years has had final say on confirmation. Fourth class postmasters are appointed by the postmaster general and do not have to be confirmed. These are for the smaller offices.

The new legislation requested by Mr. Truman is in line with a recommendation of the Government Reorganization Commission headed by former President Hoover.

To put the $600,000,000 Postoffice Department on a more efficient basis.

Fire Training To Begin Monday For Volunteers

The New York state fire training program for volunteer firemen of the city of Kingston will be instituted Monday, June 27 at 7:30 p. m., at the Central Fire Station.

All volunteers of the various fire companies throughout the city are urged by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy to attend this training program.

The program was inaugurated in Ulster county in February of this year with a large number of the township companies participating. The courses have been under the leadership of Deputy Chiefs Harold A. Sanford and James M. Brett.

The New York state fire training program is embraced in a state-wide safety movement under the direction of Thomas A. Ryan, director of New York state safety and fire mobilization control.

Deputy Chiefs Sanford and Brett were appointed by the advisory committee of Ulster county, which was set up under state law. The deputy chiefs attended fire training instructor school at Rochester from January 16 to January 22 inclusive. The course was given by Fred Heisler of A. M. College, Oklahoma.

The purpose of the training course is to further promote the mutual aid program now in force and will be intensified to meet any possible emergencies.

Fire Is Controlled

Top Secret Navy Building Fire Threatens Powder Warehouses

Washington, June 24 (AP)—A top-secret naval building always under heavy guard today was the center of a three-alarm fire that also threatened a row of large munitions warehouses.

The fire was reported under control at 3 a. m.

One man familiar with the navy installation said if the flames had spread to the warehouses just a few feet away "the entire south-eastern part of Washington would have blown up."

The area is considered so secret that shore patrolmen with drawn revolvers kept even Washington police, including the chief of police, from entering.

The navy refused any immediate estimate of damage, explanation of the cause of the fire, or to tell what was in Building 13 of the Naval Research Magazine.

A reporter for the Washington Times-Herald said, however, that the two-story building was completely destroyed.

Abandonment Case Postponed Week

The case of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Rabbottini of Mullers Terrace, Rosendale road, who was charged with abandonment, was postponed for a week when it came up on Thursday afternoon before City Judge Roosa in Beacon.

The couple were taken into custody at their home Wednesday night following an investigation which had been in progress for two days.

Under questioning at the sheriff's office in Dutchess county following the arrest, the couple told authorities they were married November 14, 1948, Sheriff Fred Close said.

Continuing his report, the sheriff said they told him that Rabbottini, who is 28, lost his job as a garage mechanic and his wife left her nursing job when she became pregnant. By Sunday, June 19, the couple were completely without funds and with the birth of the baby expected at any time they frantically drove to New York city and back in an attempt to make arrangements for hospitalization of Mrs. Rabbottini, and to arrange for a foster home for the child, Sheriff Close said the couple told him.

Unable to find a hospital to take the case, they stopped at Newburgh where the wife was examined by a doctor and told the birth would take place "within 12 hours," according to Sheriff's report.

Then they drove to Highland, crossed the Mid-Hudson Bridge and went south as far as Beacon, the sheriff said. Here they gave their names as Dominic and Dolores Muzio of 441 Pearl street, Hudson, he said. The wife was admitted to the hospital, where on the following day, Monday, June 20, she gave birth to a girl, Sheriff Close said.

That same evening the husband visited the wife and, the sheriff charged, they planned for her escape down a fire escape leading from her window. This was done at midnight, when the husband was waiting under the window with his automobile, the sheriff alleged.

Hospital authorities notified Beacon police and the Dutchess county sheriff's office. An investigation was begun by Deputy Sheriffs Robbin A. Adams and Lawrence M. Quinlan assisted by Sergeants Wood and Parker of the Beacon police. Because of the false names and addresses, nothing was learned until Wednesday, when Kingston police and the Ulster county sheriff's department joined the investigation which, they said, led to Rabbottini's cabin on the Rosendale road.

Sheriff Close said today he wished to compliment the Kingston police and the Ulster county sheriff's department, without whose help, along with that of the Beacon police, the arrest could not have been made. Those who participated from Ulster county were Sheriff George C. Smith, Investigator Clayton Vredenburg and Identification Officer Leonard Belmont of the sheriff's department and Detectives Clarence Brophy and William Krum of the police.

Kitchen Space

If your kitchen is too small to accommodate a table and chair set, use an eating bar which is ideal for breakfast and snacks. A set of open shelves to hold coffee cups, saucers and other dishes most frequently used at breakfast is helpful. The shelf can take on a festive air if trimmed with sparkling shelving paper that harmonizes with the color of the bar.

Trend Is Toward Drop in Prices on Some Farm Crops

Although the prices of some farm produce in this area will be forced up by the drought, there is a general trend toward a drop in prices, C. Chester DuMond, state commissioner of agriculture, told members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday noon.

A local survey made by the Board of Agriculture Economics shows prices dropping faster than crops, he said. Prices dropped about 20 per cent last year with a drop in production of only two per cent, according to the survey.

Price increases may be expected this year in milk, vegetables, pears and peaches, he said. Milk output in May was 15 per cent higher than in May of last year, he said, but the production during the week ending June 17 dropped "faster than ever in history." Pastures are "burning up" because of the lack of rain and in some places 40 or 50 cows are pastured on land which has not enough grass "for one goat," he said.

In Rochester and Buffalo it has already been decided that dairymen will get one cent more per pound of milk starting July 1, he said.

Potatoes Are Hit

In spite of the drop last week, total production for the year remains about equal to last year and if there is some relief from the drought the situation will not become too serious, he said.

Potatoes have been hit, and in the areas not irrigated the tops are already turning yellow, although it is still three weeks from harvest, he said. He pointed out the little known fact that there are 20,000 acres of irrigated land on Long Island which survive the drought.

Eating Better

Commissioner DuMond urged those present not to condemn the farmer entirely for the high prices. He noted that the farmer averages 49 cents out of the consumer's dollar today, compared with 55 cents during the peak war year.

It is true, he said, that the average consumer today is paying 32 per cent of his income for food compared with 26 per cent in 1942. This is due not only to an increase in prices, but also to the fact that "we are eating a lot better."

In 1948 there was 12 per cent more meat and 23 per cent more milk consumed in the country than in 1942, he pointed out.

Explains Farm Plans

DuMond's talk took the form of an economic analysis in which he attempted to explain the difficulties encountered by the farmers. He urged the consumers to "let the man who produces food make enough profit" to keep him in business.

He analyzed several plans to aid the farmers, including the Eranman plan which would subsidize farmers from tax money and another plan which was first proposed 20 years ago, known as the "two price system," where the farmer would grow as he could, selling what he can on the domestic market and current prices and disposing of the rest by export at reduced prices.

Sprague Is Injured As Cycle, Auto Crash

One of five bicycle riders involved in slight accidents yesterday was injured, according to police reports.

Ronald Sprague, 14, of 46 Hurley avenue, suffered an injured left leg when the bicycle he was riding out of the driveway of the A. & P. store on North Front street, and an auto were in collision at about 4:30 p. m.

The car was operated by Abraham Benenson, Lawrence, L. I., who was headed west on North Front street.

Officer Thomas McGrane and Earl Schoonmaker were at the scene at the time of the mishap, and said that young Sprague was thrown to the pavement. He was taken to a doctor by Benenson.

Joseph Goldwasser, of Rosendale reported to the police at 8:45 p. m. that he was driving up Broadway and was near Meadow street when Joan Klarick, 54 West Chester street, and Rose Mary Doyle of Port Ewen "ran into the side of his car" on bicycles. Neither reported injuries, the report said.

Another report near noon said that Donald, 15, and Margaret Lavatsch, 7, of 10 Woodland avenue, riding on a bicycle, were in collision at Hemlock avenue and Tubby street, with an auto owned and operated by George B. Cook, 41 Tubby street. No injuries were reported.

Says She Wanted to Kill Waitkus Over Year Ago

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Ruth Steinhagen, 19, the infatuated young typist who shot and seriously wounded Eddie Waitkus last week, says the Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman was her dream companion since she first saw him playing ball three years ago.

She said she had resolved more than a year ago to kill Waitkus. But her story did not give any reason for deciding to kill the star ball player.

Miss Steinhagen, in jail awaiting arraignment June 30 on a charge of assault with intent to murder, wrote that since childhood she had "terrible feelings of hopelessness and helplessness."

She has admitted she lured Waitkus, handsome 29-year-old bachelor, to her room at the Edgewater Beach Hotel the night of June 14.

Miss Steinhagen, who had never met Waitkus, fired a bullet into his chest after he entered her room.

Driver Schools Get Rigid Regulation

Albany, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Privately-operated automobile driver schools were under more rigid state regulation today.

Clifford J. Fletcher, commissioner of Motor Vehicles, clamped on new restrictions yesterday in a move to eliminate what he called "widespread abuses" uncovered in a state probe.

The regulations were tightened primarily to stamp out practices indicating that state driver licenses could be obtained through other than prescribed procedure.

The state, in its probe of driver schools last year, claims it found that extra fees up to $25 were collected from students on the alleged representation the money would be used to "bribe the license examiner."

License revocation proceedings were instituted against 37 schools. The Motor Vehicle Bureau reported that six license examiners had left the service after findings of alleged misconduct.

Fletcher estimated that about 250 schools were affected by the regulations.

Deputy Commissioner Halsey S. Carey outlined the new code to driver school representatives yesterday at New York city.

He said only legitimate enterprises need fear the "bite" in the revised regulations.

The new controls, authorized by the 1949 Legislature, require special instructors' certificates and bar instructors having criminal records.

The instruction vehicles must be registered as such, have dual controls and be covered by adequate liability insurance.

School licenses now will be issued on a one-year basis instead of five. Existing five-year certificates will be valid until they expire.

One new provision requires that

DEMOCRATS CAMPAIGN EARLY

Democratic leaders are resuming their courtship of midwestern farmers almost before the experts have finished figuring why last year's flirtation paid off so well at the polls.

The recent Des Moines conference with farmers from 16 states was pegged to a study of the Brannan plan for farm price supports and subsidies.

But the Democratic high command said candidly it was out to woo the farmers with the 1950 election in mind.

Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, the party's national chairman, cautioned that the Democrats might lose control of the U. S. House if they did not lay the election groundwork early.

This was an admission that his party's deep inroads into farm country last fall were largely unexpected, and that no easy repetition of this performance at the polls could be counted on.

In the 16 states represented at the Des Moines meeting, there are 11 Senatorial seats and 145 House seats which will be at stake in 1950. The present Senate lineup there is 10 to 1 for the G.O.P., and the House score is 79 to 66 in the Republicans' favor. Senate totals, of course, do not include seats where terms expire after 1950.

The Democrats gained four Senate seats and 40 House berths in the 16-state area last year. At the very minimum they want to hold their House gains in 1950.

For a Republican resurgence there might well point the way to G.O.P. control of the House. Even though there is less likelihood that Republicans can also recapture the Senate, the Democrats cannot look with comfort on the prospect of either chamber slipping into opposition hands while they hold the White House.

They remember the deadlocks between Congress and President Truman that were the bitter fruit of the divided rule that followed the G.O.P. sweep in 1946.

It is possible Democratic leaders may be thinking beyond just keeping what they have. They may be hoping for even bigger successes in the farm states.

Larger majorities in House and Senate, firmly founded in a strong farmer-labor tie-up, would obviously enhance the party's effectiveness as an instrument for carrying out the President's policies.

The present strength of northern Democrats is almost always insufficient to win out over a determined opposition coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats.

The attendance of a few labor leaders at the Des Moines conference suggests that party officials may be trying to tighten the bonds between farmers and workers for just this purpose.

Presumably the Republicans are aware of all these possibilities. A few already have mounted platforms to denounce the Brannan plan anew and otherwise seek to offset any benefits the Democrats may have registered at Des Moines.

If the Democrats hold other such meetings, as seems likely, the result undoubtedly will be to force an early start to the heavy campaigning for 1950.

The odd years on the calendar used to provide us with a welcome respite from this sort of thing. But politics is becoming as annual as taxes.

This business of lawn-rolling may be all right in its way, but sometimes, says the boy in the next yard, it goes too far.

TRAVELERS

Summer is traditionally travel time for those who like to travel, and that group includes most people. Some stay home because they have to; perhaps next year the trip will be taken. A few stay home because they have no interest in travel; they are in danger of stagnating.

Communities can't travel, but by receiving travelers they get the same advantages of new contacts with the rest of the world, and new experiences. Like people, a few communities withdrew within themselves and look on travelers with disdain, having no

THE COST OF CONFUSION

This country limited its relations to Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933. In that year, President Roosevelt decided to recognize Soviet Russia and he and Litvinov composed a treaty in which the parties agreed:

"To refrain, and to refrain all persons in government service and all organizations of the government or under its direct or indirect control, including organizations in receipt of any financial assistance from it, from any act overt or covert liable in any way whatsoever to injure the tranquility, prosperity, order, or security of the whole or any part of the United States, its territories or possessions, and, in particular, from any act tending to incite or encourage armed intervention, or any agitation or propaganda having as an aim, the violation of the territorial integrity of the United States, its territories or possessions, or the bringing about by force of a change in the political or social order of the whole or any part of the United States, its territories or possessions."

The Russian failed to live up to the terms of this treaty. Instead they built in this country a public and secret apparatus for the destruction of the traditional American life. By infiltration in high places, by corruption of our youth, by special appeals to self-serving opportunists in the writing, lecturing and motion picture fields, they made association with themselves extraordinarily attractive. In all these efforts they were aided by two historic events, the Great Depression and the existence of Hitler.

From 1926 to 1945, with a short hiatus during the Stalin-Hitler alliance, a political alliance existed between the Communists and the New Deal, designed to perpetuate the New Deal and to strengthen the Communists. The result of this association has been confusion in all phases of American life, particularly in government, in labor relations and in education. The invasion of the universities, schools, magazines, theatres and radio imperils not so much our politics as our civilization.

The confusion and chaos during the Hitler regime in Germany because many decent, even anti-Marxist individuals joined Communist front movements to express their opposition to Fascism, Nazism, Racism, and other abominations. Many became involved over questions of free speech and academic freedom, feeling that it is important to defend freedom for anyone if freedom is not to be lost to everyone. Many innocent persons found themselves deeply involved in the Communist conspiracy who were not and could not be Communists. They today have to accept the consequences of their choice.

The failure of many innocent persons to understand the nature of the Communist revolution is largely responsible for our confusion. Too many assume that this is a question of capitalism versus socialism. The economics of Communism imperil us least; for if our civilization collapses, it does not matter what happens to our economy. Men can get their bread one way or another under any way of life, but if their character, their family life, their ethics, their basic assumptions are violently and radically altered, their civilization may become brutalized.

The essence of Marxism is that man is a product of a constantly changing environment. There is no God. There is no revealed truth. There is no moral law. No objective truth. Life is an accident controlled by material causes and things, and those are justified in surviving who do survive. Therefore, even murder—political murder—is justified in the struggle for survival.

How does one compromise over such a philosophy? What two sides can there be concerning any issue that may arise out of such a philosophy? For instance, Judge Fuld in New York, in a decision, forbade calling anyone a Communist unless that person, in effect, so declares himself. But every Communist is, by conviction, a liar, because he believes that any weapon may be used for survival. And the lie may be and often is a means toward survival in the struggle for existence. Judge Fuld did not understand the Marxist revolution and its techniques, and his decision is childish because it is unrelated to reality. It is wisdom in a vacuum—which is a judicial hazard.

The confusions inherent in a mixed Marxist-Christian society may damage us more than faulty economics.

SUGAR AND SWEETS

Your dentist will tell you that the greatest single cause of tooth decay is too much sugar in the daily diet. It is only natural for children to eat candy and want "sweet" foods, and many adults are just as fond of sugar as are children.

The reason your dentist wants you to cut down on your sugar intake is because the sugar gets on and between the teeth, attacks the hard surface—the enamel—and causes tiny cracks in it. Through these tiny cracks, organisms which cause decay find their way. This means that the teeth's "outer" protection is partly lost. If these tiny cavities are not filled, more and more harmful organisms will enter into the less hard tissues of the teeth.

As stated before, the tissues which maintain the health of the inner part of the teeth are kept healthy by the protective foods—dairy products (milk, cream, butter, cheese), egg yolks and green vegetables. Thus, if less sugar is eaten and more of the protective foods, healthy teeth should be maintained.

Another reason why sugar should be reduced is that if we eat a large amount of sugar, we have not the room or desire for other foods just as necessary or even more necessary than sugar or other starch foods.

However, there is nothing that will give "quick energy" as rapidly as sugar. It can be absorbed into the blood directly from the mouth within a minute or two, without having to go all the way through the stomach and intestines, a matter of hours.

Athletes know the value of sugar before and during a game, race, or boxing or wrestling bout. Harvard research workers have found that eating more sugar in training and during the Boston marathon race enables the runners to finish farther up in the race and in better condition when they finished, than during the race the previous year when these same runners did not take sugar. At "half time" in a football or hockey game, eating sweets (candy, loaf sugar, oranges) gives energy for the second half of the game.

The thought then, is, that generally speaking, we should eat less sugar to save our teeth and leave room and appetite for the protective foods. When we need extra or quick energy, sugar gives energy quicker than other foods.

desire to receive and communicate with them. Like people who continually choose to stay at home, they risk stagnation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—G.O.P. Representative Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, who leads the House fight against the public housing bill, would like to forget all about it, but he once strongly espoused what he now opposes.

Back in August, 1937, Congressman Wolcott was an outspoken champion of the Wagner-Steagall Housing Act, which also provided for slum clearance and low-cost public housing—the same program which the Michigan Republican now calls "socialistic."

During the 1937 debate Wolcott declared: "I believe that the need for decent, respectable and sanitary housing for the underprivileged has been proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt."

In fact, Wolcott was so concerned about the need for adequate public housing and slum clearance in 1937, that he urged colleagues who were opposed to the bill to go home and "read the Bible" before casting their votes.

Lifting Little Iron Curtain
Debated backstage during the closing days of the Paris conference was a point which may revolutionize U. S. policy toward Iron Curtain countries. It was: Should the U. S. create a "Little Marshall Plan" for the satellite countries?

Two schools of thought exist among American diplomats. Both agree that Europe badly needs east-west trade and that the German Ruhr must have markets in Bulgaria, Hungary, Roumania and other satellite countries.

However, one diplomatic school opposes economic aid to any Iron Curtain country. Such aid, it is argued, is only an indirect way of helping Russia.

The other school argues that aid to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, etc., would win over the people of these countries—already resentful of Soviet rule. This group is prepared to take the calculated risk of helping Russia in order to persuade the satellites to break away from Russia.

However, it was economic unrest inside Yugoslavia that helped induce Tito to pull up his iron curtain. Therefore the No. 1 school argues that our best policy is to let the satellites stew in their own economic juice until they really realize how tough life behind the iron curtain is.

Note—Despite Foreign Minister Vishinsky's smiles at Paris, Russia still has 172 fully trained divisions of the Red Army, plus 180 reserve divisions which can be mobilized in 60 days.

Perle's Parties
Mrs. Perle Mesta, ex-Republican oil heiress from Oklahoma whose loyalty to Harry Truman has made her U. S. minister to Luxembourg, threw a party for Defense Secretary Louis Johnson the other day. But the guest list looked as if Mrs. Mesta was specializing on Pan American Airways.

It included Sam Pryor, G.O.P. national committee chairman for Connecticut and vice president of Pan American; Ben Sommerberg, astute public relations counsel for Pan Am, and Senator Brewster of Maine, considered Pan Am's best senatorial friend. Louis Johnson, himself, of course, used to be counsel for Pan American, which has received more favors from Uncle Sam than any other airline in history.

After the party was over one guest said it reminded him of the late Louis Wiley's remark after being kissed and decorated by Marshal Foch. "I wasn't the most thrilling kiss I ever had," said the late business manager of the New York Times, "but I guess it was the most important."

Note—Mrs. Mesta is now reading books on the steel industry. For Luxembourg, her new post, is the center of the European steel cartel.

Merry-Go-Round
Most of the Pennsylvania Democrats in Congress are planning to descend on Secretary of Defense Johnson to demand the ousting of Paul Griffith, former commander of the American Legion, from the defense department. Those who know Griffith and his chair-warming activities, agree with the Congressmen. . . . Some wives of the generals and admirals who make up the joint chiefs of staff refer to their husbands as the "stiff joints."

Rootin'-tootin' Congressman John Rankin of Mississippi has really dug into the history books to sound the alarm about spies. Warning the Congress about Communism, Rankin recalled that Benjamin Franklin's secretary, a subversive named Bancroft, had slipped government secrets to the British during the Revolutionary War. . . . Jack McCloy, now U. S. governor of Germany, was picked and virtually appointed by Secretary of State Acheson. They will work well together. . . . Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's military aide, is now sniping at Defense Secretary Johnson—despite the fact that he, Vaughan, urged Johnson's appointment. . . . Chiang Kai-shek's brothers-in-law, T. V. Soong and H. H. Kung, reputed to head the richest families in the world, are looking for good public relations men. They want him to sell the American people on shipping silver to pay Chinese troops. Some silver-bloc senators, especially McCarran of Nevada, have already bitten.

He Who Laughs Last
Oregon's wrathful Republican Wayne Morse has served notice that he will block every bill Chairman Millard Tydings of Maryland tries to steamroller through the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Morse issued his warning privately after rowing with Tydings publicly over whether the navy should report to Congress its disposal of surplus property. This is now required by law, but Tydings wants to repeal the law and let the navy dispose of property without any public report. Morse objected on the ground that Congress should not give up its checks on the military. But in committee Tydings overruled him.

However, the Oregon senator is going to have the last laugh. For he can block most of Tydings' bills on the Senate floor, and he has served notice that he will do so whenever the chairman tries to jam legislation down the throats of committee members without a fair vote.

'Government by Crony,' Introduced by Truman, Differs Little From Spoils System of Other Administrations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 24—President Truman must certainly live in a vacuum. His message to Congress urging increases in pay for the heads and assistant heads of departments and other executive officials contains an unrealistic comparison with the pay received by executives in private industry. But Mr. Truman doesn't seem to realize the difference.

In private industry executives are chosen for their efficiency and for the record they make over a period of years.

It is government, top executives are chosen for political reasons. "Government by crony," which has been introduced by Mr. Truman, differs very little from the political spoils system of past administrations. Men aren't worth big salaries just because they have big titles and serve a political party.

In an era in which the size of campaign contributions is the determining factor in selecting ambassadors and ministers and when the criterion of cabinet eligibility is too often the amount of money an individual raised in the presidential campaign, it is not surprising that good men will not take subordinate positions in the government.

"It is customary," wrote the President, "for private industry for an executive to be paid many times as much as he would be paid for comparable work in government service. Salaries of $50,000 to $100,000 a year in private industry are not uncommon."

"When it is considered that the responsibilities of many top government executives are far greater than those of any private executive in the nation, it is evident why the government has great difficulty in obtaining and keeping the best men."

But a record of appointments to cabinet posts in recent years shows few changes. Mr. Truman wouldn't have the slightest difficulty in getting men from private business to become cabinet members. It is a safe bet, however, that he never would offer such a post to any of the top executives who have made good in the big companies to which he refers in his message.

Anybody in an executive capacity earning $50,000 to $100,000 a year or more must perform to the satisfaction of a board of directors which measures results by the yardstick of incomes and profits made and by individual capacity. The fact that an executive is a half-fellow-well-met or that he tells good stories or is a boon drinking companion doesn't get him very far in those large businesses where the people's money is invested.

Somehow or other, in government, it's another story. The President often appoints and the Senate confirms men who would never be able to earn in private industry the equivalent of their government salary.

There are many capable men in the government and they deserve salary increases. Many of them could make more money in private life—and many of them do leave the government service. They find the red tape of government irksome and the opportunities for advancement not at all attractive. They become disgusted with party politics and the waste of public money.

The problem of efficiency in government will never be solved just by increasing the salaries of its policy-making executives. The nation will never get the best men to serve at the top level until men are elected to the White House who do not play fast and loose with public authority by using it to foster personal friendships or to pay political debts. When there is public confidence in the executive and a great deal of public service, there will be a corresponding recognition of what it is proper to do with the salary scales of executives throughout the government.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 24—The Truman administration has begun another court action, the fourth in a 10-year series, to deport Harry Bridges on the ground that he is a Communist who swore that he was not in obtaining citizenship in 1945. At that time the Supreme Court had only recently acquitted him of "affiliation" with the Communist Party in a decision reeking with political bias. With the court thus committed to the proposition that Bridges is a persecuted martyr of the "labor" clause, the ultimate futility of the present case is apparent at the start and the court's decision a foregone conclusion.

Besides the deportation action there are criminal charges of perjury and conspiracy arising from the deportation law which was rushed through soon after Justice William O. Douglas delivered the majority opinion. This reversed four subordinate decisions given on the way up and took good care of one of the principal proteges of the Democratic Party at that time. Douglas is a political partisan of a stripe similar to Bridges' and he comes from that far northwestern section where the Bridges and other captains of the goons set government at naught intermittently for years and brought into power the Fascist regime which still rules much of the area under Dave Beck of the teamsters.

Douglas frankly approves the character and methods of these people. Last fall he exhorted the lawbreakers in the history of the United States outside the protection of our relations with foreign governments. He is openly courting their favor on the chance that they will nominate him for president in 1952 on the Democratic ticket or, failing that, on the ephemeral known as Americans for Democratic Action, a political secret society as of now.

Strangely, Felix Frankfurter joined Chief Justice Stone and Justice Roberts in voting against Bridges that time, although Lee Eversman, one of the most pernicious of the whole sinners' cult, a Harvard happy hot dog, was one of Bridges' lawyers before the court. Pressman also was chief counsel of the C.I.O. He was one of a group of political parasites implicated in Frankfurter's invisible government who last summer refused to say whether he was a Communist on the ground that his answer might incriminate or degrade him.

From the tenor of the debate among his brethren in chambers, Frankfurter could have concluded that his vote would not be necessary to protect Bridges. In the previous deportation suit, a raw political job hatched in the Supreme Court, the Department of Labor and, of course, the White House, the government's case was neatly torpedoed. This was an inside job. The calculated result was that James Landis, also of Harvard Law, of course, and a Frankfurter man, could vindicate Bridges with a straight face.

At this time, Bridges is blockading Hawaii. In all important aspects this blockade is a duplication of the Soviet blockade of Berlin, the same inspiration is present, the traitor Muscovite press from New York to San Francisco acclaims it is a righteous measure and the conduct of the trained, organized goons who quickly appeared in Honolulu from the west—men who have been similarly provocative and dangerous.

All of the Truman administration's attitudes toward unions and goons are controlled by political motives rather than law and justice, so it is appropriate to look for the ulterior reasons for the present prosecution of Bridges. They are obviously malicious and bear no relation to the sworn duty of all government officers.

Whereas Bridges formerly was a ward and protégé of the Roosevelt and Truman governments he put himself outside their protection in March 1948 by endorsing Henry Wallace, the Kremlin's candidate. Instantly Bridges became loathsome and Philip Murray, the president of the C.I.O., showed beyond question the character which all honest men had perceived in him long ago, by discharging Bridges from his appointive position of regional director for the west coast.

Bridges unquestionably had been one of the most effective terrorists in the evil service of the C.I.O. for years and, on his record, deserved Murray's endless gratitude. Murray, however, held with the totalitarian policy of denying freedom of political opinion and action. The C.I.O. was fixing to support the Democratic nominee and the Marshall Plan. Bridges could have been canned for supporting the Republicans and condemning felonious assault on the picket lines.

The Berlin air-lift was installed overnight to redeem Mr. Truman's (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Contract Awards For Woodstock Await Petition

Woodstock, June 24—Contract awards for the proposed local water works projects, contingent upon a taxpayers petition, were made by the town board here last night.

The contracts were for Sections 2 and 3 of the project, and the taxpayers petition will be on the proposal to increase appropriations from $150,000 to $200,000.

The petition will have to be signed by 51 per cent of the resident taxpayers and also must exceed at least 31 per cent of the assessed valuation.

If enough signatures are obtained, it must then be submitted to the State Board of Audit and Control.

The contracts in the two sections were awarded as follows: Peckham Road Corp., White Plains and Cairo; laying of pipe, $31,750; Pittsburgh - Des Moines Steel Co., standpipe, $5,590; Nielsen Construction Co., Warwick, foundation of standpipe and excavating, $1,300; Warren Pipe and Foundry Corp., New York, supplying pipe, $53,662.50; Badger Meter Co., meters, $5,480.70; Mueller Co., valves, valve boxes and hydrants, $6,636.39, and the same concern, fittings and service materials, $2,937.93.

Board members approved a recommendation that cast iron pipe be used in preference to transite pipe in the construction of the water works project. With this decided, the board then approved re-advertising Section I of the contract which was thrown out previously when the bids exceeded the estimate.

The cast iron pipe was recommended for the job by J. C. Keis of Troy, consulting engineer.

The section of the contract now again open for bid covers labor, material for wells, pumping equipment, electrical controls and wiring, pumping chamber, valve chamber, grading.

Sealed proposals for furnishing materials and equipment and constructing two wells, pumping station buildings, valve chamber, two deep well pumps with motors, electrical controls, pipe connections, etc., will be received at the office of the Town Board on 3 p. m. July 1 and will then be publicly opened.

Plans, specifications, contract forms and approximate quantities are on file at the office of Keis and Holroyd, consulting engineers, Troy, and at the office of the town clerk, Town Hall, Woodstock.

Repair Work Gets

will cost about $2,896, and will remove the present difficulty of hearing in the gym. An item of $1,900 for erection of two concrete stairs leading from the high school level to the M.J.M. level to replace the present worn out wooden stairways is also included in the estimated work.

An item of $10,000 for removal of rock and grading at the vocational school building, made necessary by the erection of the new addition, is another major item. Other large items in the building repairs program are items for replacing old clogged galvanized water lines at various schools. During the past few days since water pressure had been reduced due to the extreme drought, it has been impossible to get water on the top floor of No. 2 school and this is one of the water lines to be replaced under the repair program.

To Vary Colors

Painting is another major item. Painting in the M.J.M. for the first time since the building was erected will be undertaken this year. A new plan will be used, that of painting rooms different colors to relieve the monotony for students when passing from one room to another.

Side, for supplying paint were received and opened. The low bidder was the J. R. Shults Company with a bid of $1,398.95, less 1 per cent discount for 10 days. The contract was awarded to that firm.

Other paint bids were: Central Hudson Paint and Wall Paper Company $1,578.00; Valase Hardware Company $1,590.08; Dixon and Rippe $1,531.20; Kingston Paint and Glass Company $1,618.55; Island Dock, Inc. $1,843.97.

New toilet partitions with doors will be erected at No. 3 School in the girls' department at a cost of $1,839.88. There have never been doors on the compartments at this school.

An item of $330 for installing the lettering "Kingston" above the present "high school" on the front of the high school building brought forth considerable discussion pro and con. Some members believed the lettering should be on but felt the cost was high. Others expressed an opinion that it was not necessary since everyone knew the city was Kingston and that the "high school" was the Kingston High School.

After considerable discussion the board decided to strike the $330 out of the budget estimate as "something we can get along without at present." The total cost of the building repair program for 1949-1950 is $58,409.13.

Summer School Program
It was announced that the summer school program would be extended to the grade schools this summer with summer school being conducted in all eight grades. This action was taken at the request of parents, already about 200 applications for grade summer school have been received. The summer school will be conducted for 35 days. Grade school hours will be from 8:30 to 11:30. High school summer school hours will remain from 8 until 12. Madeline Cournoyer was appointed a teacher of French and Spanish in the high school at a salary of $3,200 a year, effective September 6. Mr. Cournoyer is a graduate of Brown University, has taken further studies in Rhode Island College of Education, Montclair State Teachers College and the University of Paris. During World War II she served as a translator and research analyst in the U. S. Signal Corps. She has had 8 1/2 years teaching experience at University of New Hampshire, Pembroke Academy at Pembroke, N. She has had five years teaching experience in schools at West Palm Beach, Florida, and also three months experience as a regular substitute teacher in Kingston. A communication was received from the junior class of the Kingston High School, stating that a rotary system for baccalaureate speakers had been adopted. This year the speaker will be a Protestant minister, next year a Catholic priest and the following year a Jewish rabbi. This cycle plan will be used in the future, the students electing what speaker of the particular denomination they desire each year. A letter was received from Mrs. Pauline Crowl submitting her resignation. She is leaving town. A financial report was received from H. Koderath, director of vocational education, indicating that an additional $362.50 had been received from project sales, making the total reported thus far to the fund $1,475.31. The board adopted a tentative budget for 1949-1950, an account of which appears in another column.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE.

A hop and a stagger away from my theatre, there's an old-fashioned suds parlor called Jerry's, and whenever the big lush over Times Square gets too deafening, I repair to this bedlamy boiler to mingle with the no-collar set and observe life in the raw and raucous.

The other night when I walked in, the place was bulging with the usual assortment of Alcoholics refusing to go Anonymous but, for a change, there was a remarkable calm in the joint, which, if you'll pardon the expression, I can only describe as pregnant.

I elbowed my way to the bar and signaled to Jerry. "The works," I said.

The barkeep, who by now knows my every whim-wham, brought me a double Moxie, straight with a smidge of mint, and, as I stood there sipping it, I discovered the reason for all the sudden law-and-order—at the end of the bar, two gentles were discussing the American Way of Life. One was a tallish galoat with a head like a loving cup; the other, a peewee with a beer-barrel voice.

"You and your rugged individualism!" said the peewee. "As I see it, the more rugged the individualism, the more rugged the going is for more and more individuals."

"What would you substitute for it?" asked the tall man. "Collectivism like in Russia? That's strictly to laugh and to thumb the nose at."

From the fly-specked mirror behind the bar, a faded chromo of F. D. R. smiled down on the scene. And as if that weren't enough atmosphere, somebody dropped a nickel in the juke box and Exile Pinzo began to sing "Some Enchanted Evening."

Jerry mopped his brow with the bar towel. "This used to be a plain, ordinary place for plain, ordinary stumblebums," he said. "Now all of a sudden, it's the Town Hall of the Air."

"What's wrong with the good old American system of git and gumption?" said the tallish galoat. "A citizen is entitled to make an honest and haphazard buck—his own way, as he sees fit, and without having to fill out a million different forms."

"The trouble is," said the peewee, "the bucks these days are getting more and more haphazard. And as for forms, people are filling out plenty of them right now—unemployment, insurance, relief checks and various other crumbs from the crumbling table of free enterprise."

At this point in the arguifying, a bum shuffled in through the doors, carrying an old suitcase. His coat was man-of-distinction stuff and, if not for a couple of safety pins, his pants would have merited the attention of the Legion of Decency.

"Hey, you," yelled the bartender, "how many times do I hafta tell ya? Go on, get lost."

The old bum didn't seem to understand, whimpered something and pointed to his suitcase.

Everybody stopped talking and turned to watch the unwinding of this Manhattan newsreel.

Jerry came out from behind the bar. "You heard what I told ya to do," he growled. "You want I should help ya?"

The bum finally seemed to get the idea but, as he made for the door, he stumbled and banged up against the cigarette machine. As he did, his suitcase snapped open and a cascade of catch-penny items such as shoelaces, razor blades and chewing gum tumbled to the floor.

"Pick up your junk and scram," said Jerry.

By now, the bum was all mixed up. He started for the door with the bag hanging open, came back timidly, stopped over to pick up his stock and then found he couldn't make it. Sorry for him, several of the barflies helped him scoop it up and one of them even bought a pack of gum. The idea seemed to spread and, by the time the bum got organized and left, he was a couple of dollars richer.

"There you are," said the peewee with the beer-barrel voice. "Free enterprise! Individual initiative! Democracy at work!"

"I suppose they got no bums in Moscow," said the tall man.

"That's right," said Shorty George. "Nobody makes a million bucks there, but they got no bums."

"How about them bums in the Kremlin?"

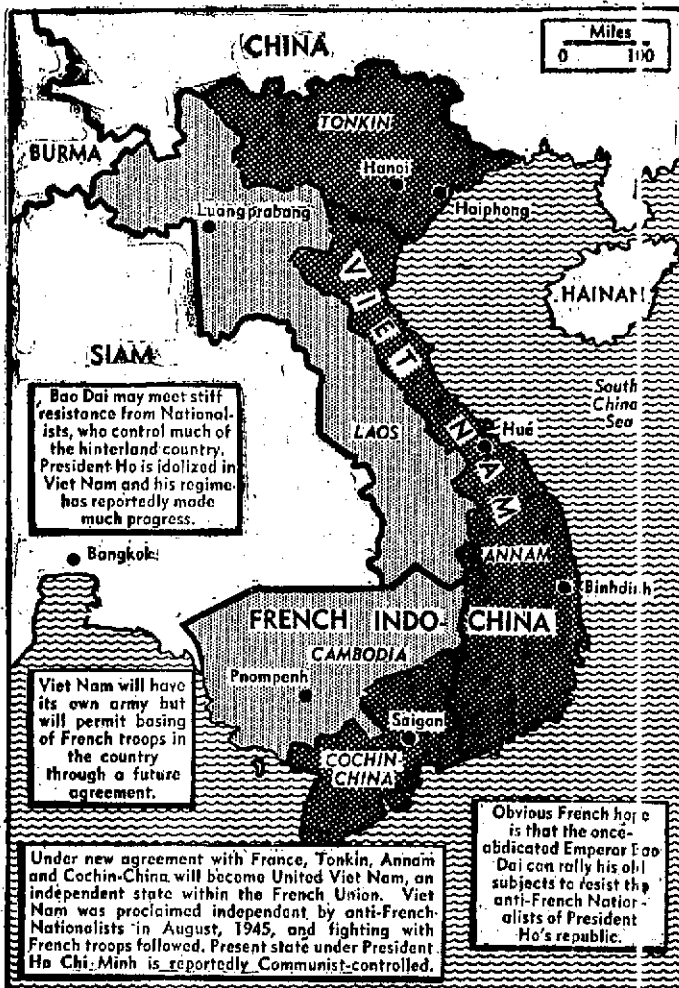

"That gave the small man pause and, as he was trying to figure out an answer, I turned back to my Moxie. "Do you get many peddlers in this joint?" I asked Jerry.

"They run ya ragged," said the barkeep. "Of course, I hate to throw an old guy like that out, and so I give him a break."

"Please amplify that remark," said the peewee. "What kind of break is it when you throw a used-up proletarian out on the street?"

"Well, Mister, it's like this," explained Jerry. "This particular moocher showed up a few months ago and all he got from my customers was the back-of-the-neck treatment. On his way out, he stumbled like he did tonight, and when his suitcase broke open the boys helped him pick up the stuff and even bought some of his merchandise. Since then, whenever this bum comes in, we go through the same routine, and as long as I keep giving him the heave-ho, it's my hunch he's going to make out."

The tall man turned to the short one. "See what I mean?" he said. "Free enterprise."

"See what I mean?" said the short one. "Capitalism in its death agonies."

"There ya are," Jerry said to me. "The long and the short of it."

I took another sip of Moxie. Over the bar, the chromo of F.D.R. kept smiling as if nothing had happened.

No Priority for Israel

Lake Kiamasha, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Among Jews in this country, says the Rabbinical Assembly of America, the strengthening of American Judaism must not be subordinated to efforts to aid Israel. In a resolution adopted at the close of its 49th annual convention yesterday, the assembly endorsed support of Jewish life in Israel. But it added that "the religious and cultural needs of our communities must not be tabled at this crucial moment."

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

Sometime ago I was asked about Washington Hall on Abeel street which was destroyed by fire on January 25, 1916. I understand it was first opened as a hotel in 1846 by Frederick Stephan, father of Judge Frederick Stephan, Jr., who ran it for some 10 or 12 years. About 1860 it was sold to George Bug, who in turn sold it to William B. Scott and George Weber and they in turn sold it to George Zeeh, who ran it for quite some time. Later it was owned by the Hauck Brewing Co. until it burned. The hall in the rear was used as a drill hall by the home militia. It was also used as a lecture hall. It is said, many of the most prominent orators of the day, following the Civil War, spoke there at some time or other. The site of the hotel and hall is now part of the Forst Packing Plant.

A number of kind folks have offered me the use of "Picturesque Ulster," which was published in 1896 by Styes & Bruyn Publishing Co. of Kingston. It was a series of books, profusely illustrated with photographs by R. Lionel De Lissier, a well-known artist of this city. Mr. De Lissier died Sept. 16, 1907 in Munich, Bavaria, but his excellent coverage of Kingston in three volumes and such townships as Woodstock, Stone Ridge, etc., are still treasured these many years by their owners. I have the three Kingston volumes. Artist De Lissier used his horse and buggy in covering the towns and this city. I understand he took most of the photographs himself of the many scenes and buildings, groups of people in front of schools, etc. Who remembers De Lissier or knew him personally. I am sure all those having his book would like to learn more about him while he was in Kingston.

Who remembers the old stage line which ran between Ponckhockie and Rondout until the trolley system was extended to that section? Lambert J. DuBois, veteran of the Civil War, who died on December 1, 1913 in his home on Green street originated that Ponckhockie-Rondout stage line, as he was a resident of that section for a long time. He was also founder of the Rondout Y.M.C.A., which it is said was the first to be originated in Kingston. He also organized the Homeseekers' Cooperative Savings and Loan Assn. and served as its secretary and executive officer until his death. I'm interested to learn more about his stage line.

Who remembers when Al King of Kingston used to sing at the old Star Theatre on central Broadway, which was run by Phil Sampson? Those were the days of the illustrated songs on

ACT QUICKLY—and in your neighborhood it might be you.

For there's no doubt that this exciting new Riviera model—styled and executed by Buick—is the very last word in new body types.

It has, as you see, the swift and racy lines of a Convertible, made even more distinctive by a bold new sweep of chromium along its fenders.

But the top is solid—a single sheet of stout steel, neatly finished off inside with chromium bows. And a broad rear window curves gracefully around, giving really abundant rearward vision.

Push-button controls drop all windows out of sight at a touch, leaving not even a doorpost to block your outlook. And the interior trim is the richest yet—a really stunning creation inside as well as out.

As pictured here the Riviera is now in production on the Buick ROADMASTER chassis—which means 150-hp Fireball power, the silken luxury of Dynaflo Drive, and the matchless levelness of the Buick "dream ride." That means "the last word" in brilliant performance as well as in luxurious dress and styling.

Production on this high-styled road star is limited, as you might expect. To be "first with the last word" therefore, it is wise to see your Buick dealer soon about getting your order in.

Colonel Riseley To Head Princeton Naval Corps Unit

The assignment of Colonel James Profit Riseley, U.S.M.C., formerly of this city, to command the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit of Princeton University and his appointment as professor of naval science on the Princeton faculty were announced today by Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of the university. Colonel Riseley will succeed Captain Frederick G. Richards who is retiring from the navy on July 1.

Colonel Riseley, a Naval Academy graduate of the Class of 1922, is a veteran of Marine Corps warfare in the Pacific Theatre, beginning with the Guadalcanal campaign. In the Sulphur and Tinian actions he was in command of the 8th Regiment of the 2nd Marine Division. Toward the conclusion of the war he was division marine officer of Battleship Division 3.

For the last three years Colonel Riseley has been stationed at the Navy Amphibious Base at Coronado, California, engaged in the training of troops. A young marine officer, after his basic school training, he received duty in Nicaragua and Haiti and at sea. He attended the Marine Corps Company Officers School in 1935, the Army Cavalry School in 1936-37, and the Army-Navy Staff College in 1943. Immediately after the war he was on the staff of the 5th Fleet.

Captain Richards who is retiring after 39 years of navy service has been appointed headmaster of the Hun School of Princeton. First command of the Princeton N.R.O.T.C. unit, Captain Richards came to Princeton in September, 1944, to take charge of the war-time School of Military Government on the campus. His assignment to Princeton followed his command of the U.S.S. Arkansas in support of the Normandy landings and the bombardment of Cherbourg. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy in the Class of 1915, Captain Richards had two tours of duty on its faculty during his long naval career.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Four Aces Take Only One Trick!

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

I found myself sitting across the table from Scattergood Holmes the other day—pardon me, I mean Wendell Holmes. We were playing auction bridge. Holmes claims there are still more people playing auction bridge than contract.

Holmes, who is heard on many different radio shows every week, got his start doing 30 shows a week for $20 a week. For a long time I have listened to his "Scattergood Holmes" show and Holmes is everything you would expect Scattergood Holmes to be. The part comes naturally to him, he says, because it reminds him of his grandfather, whom he admires very much, and who is still active although 86 years old. Holmes is also Dr. Watson in the Monday night Sherlock Holmes series.

I told Holmes about this famous auction bridge hand, which was played in the Masonic Temple in Cleveland, O., 23 years ago. I know, because I was the goat.

Whenever we held all the aces, the bidding was opened with two no trump. I won the opening lead of the king of clubs with the ace. I couldn't have cashed the other three aces, but I guessed the ten of diamonds and East won with the jack. He returned a club.

On the tenth club I was down to three aces and I had to make a discard. I discarded the ace of diamonds. West led a diamond, East won it with the king and I had to make another discard. I guessed wrong, and my four aces took the grand total of one trick.

Young Mother Found; Faces Murder Charge

Newark, N. J., June 24 (AP)—A young mother, despondent since the birth of her baby, was found in a hysterical condition yesterday with her father lying dead from 51 lacerated wounds.

Assistant Essex County Prosecutor Edward Gaultin said the girl, 23-year-old Mrs. Marie Jean Steinhauer, "will definitely be charged with murder."

Gaultin said the father, Edward A. McMahon, Sr., 67, was struck down in the kitchen of his home here.

Dr. Harrison S. Martland, Essex county medical examiner, said "the first blows on the head must have rendered McMahon unconscious and she must have stood over him and hacked away."

Martland added, "the only way I can figure it was that the girl was suffering from a psychosis after the birth of her baby and temporarily went into a frenzy."

Mrs. Steinhauer was taken to the psychopathic ward of City Hospital, Gaultin said. Her baby was born about six months ago.

Miss Tarr and County Girls Attend Legion Auxiliary Sponsored Empire Girls' State

Miss Patricia Tarr, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Burton F. Tarr, 40 Franklin street, is in Saratoga Springs attending the Empire Girls' State sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Department of New York. The meeting opened today and will continue through July 2.

Miss Tarr is being sponsored at Girls' State by Kingston Unit 150, American Legion Auxiliary.

Also attending are five other girls from the county auxiliaries: Miss Betty McGuire of Saugerties sponsored by Lamoureux-Hackett Unit 72; Miss Rita R. Schmidt, sponsored by Cook-Taylor Unit 111 of Ellenville; Miss Betty Ann Will sponsored by Sullivan-Shafer Unit 176, New Paltz; Miss Suzanne R. Dunbar of Lomontville, sponsored by Marlborough Unit 1512; and Miss Janice Terwilliger, sponsored by Rose-Sheehy Unit 1034 of Wallkill.

Empire Girls' State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Department of New York. The current meeting is the eighth annual session at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs.

Girls' State is where citizens learn through experience the mechanics that run town, city, county and state governments. Every girl has an active part in some phase of state or city government. She learns by doing that her government is just what she makes it. The program of education in Americanism and civics teaches the girls of high school age that there is nothing wrong with the American form of government.

Girls sent by the auxiliaries are chosen by the principals and faculty where they attend school. Each girl must be a qualified high school junior who will enter the senior class in the fall and must be certified by the high school principal as being in the upper half of her class scholastically. She must possess exceptional qualities of leadership and sportsmanship. She does not have to be related to a legion or auxiliary member.

Miss Tarr's record in qualifying for the representative of the local unit shows that she has maintained an average of 95 per cent. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, appeared in the Christmas play, is secretary of the Language Club and was chairman of the Junior Prom.

George Werrenrath Weds Elsie Randall

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Elsie Gertrude Randall, daughter of Mrs. Phineas B. Randall of Watertown, Conn., and the late Mr. Randall, to George Hans Werrenrath, son of Reinhold Werrenrath of New York, noted American baritone, and of Mrs. Ada Werrenrath of San Antonio, Tex. The ceremony was performed Wednesday at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Watertown, by the Rev. Robert B. Applebury.

The bride was escorted by the bridegroom's father. She was given away in marriage by her mother and wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and marquisette, a veil of tulle attached to a tiara of heirloom duchesse lace. She carried white orchids and gardenias.

Mrs. Hemmway Merriam, Jr., of Watertown was the bride's only attendant. Roderick Beebe, Jr., of the Gunnery School, Washington, Conn., was best man.

The reception was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hemmway Merriam of Academy Hill, Watertown.

The bride was graduated from St. Margaret's School in Watertown and Connecticut College for Women.

Mr. Werrenrath was graduated from the Academy in Marion, Mass., and received a bachelor of arts degree from Dartmouth College in 1933 and an M.A. degree in French from Middlebury College in 1935. He studied also at Columbia University. During the war he served in the army in North Africa and Europe. He is a member of the faculty of the Greenwood (N. J.) School for Boys. The bridegroom's father at one time had voice classes in Kingston, and sang here on several occasions.

Little Gardens Club Hears

Of Flowers in California

Little Gardens Club met at Y. Nieuw Dorp in Hurley last Friday. Mrs. William Niles and Mrs. Robert Murray were the hostesses. Mrs. Arthur Quimby who spent last winter in California described the various flower shows she attended while there and also the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

She spoke in detail of the cancellis, carnations and fuchsias shows and especially of the Pasadena show where five large buildings are devoted to the exhibits.

In describing the Tournament of Roses, Mrs. Quimby noted that one float may contain as many as 175 million individual blossoms. Each blossom is handled individually. Petals are taken from the blooms and glued to the floats for backgrounds while the whole flowers are arranged in various scenes on the float. Work on the floats begins about 8 hours before the parade and the flowers are sprinkled continuously. The festival began in 1890 as a small affair and has grown each year to its present mammoth proportions. Workers begin in November to prepare for the display.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served. Mrs. William Taylor presided at the punch bowl.

The next meeting will be July 1 at the home of Mrs. John Saxe, West Hurley. The program will be on poetry and music. Each member is asked to bring flowers from her garden for a flower arrangement demonstration.

Everice Parsons of County Home Bureau Named Outstanding Demonstration Agent

Ithaca, June 24—Miss Everice Parsons of Kingston, Ulster county, and Miss Frances E. Seales of Rochester, Monroe county, received special recognition as home demonstration agents of 1949 at the annual meeting of the New York State Home Demonstration Agents Association at Hotel Ithaca Thursday evening.

Home demonstration agents of the year are chosen on the basis of terms of service, professional attitude, professional improvement, development of well-planned programs, outside interests and special honors.

Both Miss Parsons and Miss Seales are Cornell graduates who received their master's degrees from Columbia University. Miss Parsons, retiring president of the Home Demonstration Agents Association, was a teacher and extension worker in Michigan until 1935 when she became agent in Ulster county.

Approximately 100 home demonstration agents, assistant and associate agents attended the event.

Girl Scout Staff Moves to Wendy For Summer Months

The Ulster County Girl Scout office at 42 Main street will close for the summer after today. The staff may be reached at Camp Wendy, Wallkill, telephone Wallkill 3-1345 where preparations will be made for opening the camp season July 3.

Miss Joan Van Keuren who was graduated from Keuka College earlier this month will be the arts and crafts director at camp this summer. She was a unit leader last year. Also one of the unit leaders at camp last year from New Orleans, Miss Katherine Copponex will return for the summer.

Reports show a few vacancies for all the age groups in the final camp period, July 31 to August 13. Waiting lists are scheduled for the first periods of the camping season.

This afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, Miss Metcalf, Miss Copponex, Miss Van Keuren, Howard C. St. John, and some of the campers will give a preview of camp life in a broadcast over Station WKNY.

W.S.C.S. Announces Several Activities

Plans for summer and fall activities were discussed at the W.S.C.S. meeting in St. James Methodist Church Wednesday. A women's dinner will be served at the church July 28 under the direction of Mrs. Robert Hudler. The society will hold a food sale at Penney's store August 5. A rummage sale will be held October 6 and 7 under the auspices of the Marie Gifford Circle; and a turkey dinner will be served at the church October 18.

The Rev. Merrill C. Johnson, pastor, led the study group in prayer and reviewed the final two chapters of the year's study book. Luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Hudler and Mrs. Charles Davis.

The afternoon meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harry Reppert, vice president in the absence of Mrs. Fred Decker who is attending a meeting of W.S.C.S. workers in Syracuse.

The budget for the year was reported as totaling $3,000. The society voted $100 to the Ethel Harpst Home in Georgia; $100 to Florine Sweat, the designated student at the home; and $100 for student aid in education.

Mrs. Reynolds Van Keuren reported on the address of Mrs. Sibley at Keuka College on the work in foreign countries.

The W.S.C.S. will entertain the high school graduates and returned college graduates of the congregation at dinner at Deane's in Woodstock Saturday night.

The afternoon devotional service was led by Mrs. Burton F. Tarr assisted by Miss Maureen Reager. Mrs. Robert Pixley sang a solo. Miss Reager discussed the work of the Methodist church missions in Africa, the oldest foreign field of the denomination. She spoke of the college in Liberia and of the W.S.C.S. project of building a hostile for girls in conjunction with the college.

The next meeting of St. James W.S.C.S. will be September 28.

Mansfield-Rower Wedding Takes Place In Plattekill

Plattekill, June 24—The garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rower was the setting for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Barbara Lenore Rower, Sunday at 2 p. m., when she became the bride of David Abraham Mansfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Mansfield of Lacey Field, New Windsor. Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom performed the ceremony beneath a trellis covered with white and pale pink carnations. Wedding music was played by Joe Marc and his orchestra.

The bride who was given in marriage by her parents, wore a cocktail length white organdy gown with eyelet embroidered bodice fashioned with short sleeves. A fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to an organdy Juliet cap and she carried a white Bible with a marker of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Stanley Rower, sister-in-union recognition said they are going ahead with their plans in the American and French sectors.

Russians Refuse

British officials assert that the 14,000 strikers cannot operate a portion of a rail system unless the whole railway operates.

The Russians control the railroads under 1945 four-power agreements.

A U.G.O. chief said repair work, occasioned by damage during demonstrations early in the strike had been completed and service could start now in the American and French sectors.

The Soviet-licensed news agency A.D.N. quoted the management as saying the system would operate without hitch if the western allies removed west German police from all rail installations. This would mean strike breaking crews from the Soviet zone could enter the picture again. This happened early in the strike and rioting resulted in two deaths and scores of injuries.

The Americans reason this way: If the strikers get trains moving through western stations, unload them and notify railway headquarters they are ready to receive more—perhaps more will come.

If some do, management and strikers will be doing business. Freight movements will be underway. The demand of the Paris Big Four foreign ministers to restore transportation in Berlin to normal, from an interzonal standpoint, will be met.

The British contend that the rail management's recent compromise offer was a legitimate one and the strikers should have accepted it.

The rail system offered the workers part payment of their wages in west marks. Russian authorities also said no striker would be punished merely because he walked off his job. They warned, however, that "saboteurs and criminals" could not expect protection.

The strikers turned down the offer.

Colonials Split With League Leading Bridgeport Bees, 1-3 and 4-0

Graham Hurls 3-Hitter Nightcap; Petty Victim of Two Home Runs

Continuing to find hidden strength in their alleged weaknesses, the Kingston Colonials today are only a game and a half out of the Colonial League's first division—and coming strong.

Wednesday night it was Eddie McNamara who delivered a game-tying single with two out in the tenth against Stamford. Last night in Bridgeport Hamilton "Red" Graham emerged from temporary exile to fashion a beautiful three-hit shutout to give the Colonials an even split against the league leading Bees.

Timers On Block

(By The Associated Press)

Poughkeepsie reeled from the five-run onslaught put up by the Bristol Owls in the first inning Thursday and never recovered. The Chiefs managed to tally three times but the initial margin was too much for them to overcome and they bowed, 8-3.

Manager Al Barillari added to the slaughter in the first frame by doubling in three runs and Carlos Bernier gave the 686 fans something to shout about with a two-base steal.

The hapless Waterbury Timers were clouted for another defeat in Stamford. The Pioneers came up with four runs in the sixth with two out for a 5-1 victory. Scotty Koprinski's double with the bases loaded batted in two runs and a single counted for two more.

Shortly after the game, Henry Delpeo of the Waterbury Baseball Club announced that the board of directors was putting the Timers on the auction block. The general manager said the board decided to take the action because they had "lost interest" in the team.

Delpeo said expenses had increased and there was an absence of fresh money coming into the club.

Chez Emile Blanks Boulevards 8-0 on Swarthout's Two-Hitter

Move Into Second Behind Joneses

Bud Swarthout pitched two-hit shutout ball as Chez Emile climbed into second place over the prostrate Boulevard Gulf Gas squad, 8 to 0, in yesterday's City League feature.

In another classic pitching performance, Swarthout restricted the Boulevard's offense to gestures to a pair of harmless singles by "Bo" Schaffer and Tom Carlino. He struck out nine and walked four.

Fifth Victory

(According to the boxscore submitted by Secretary Ed Murphy, the Chezies collected only three hits off Hargrove's Boulevard starter, but this summary does not jibe with the running details which list at least five safeties for the winners.)

The victory was Chez Emile's fifth in six starts and gives them a half game edge over Morgan's Rest for the runnerup spot behind the undefeated Jones Dairy nine. Boulevard suffered their sixth setback against one win since Fred Davi took over the master minding.

Three of the Chez Emile safeties were doubles by Bob Gill, Link Crosby and pitcher Swarthout. Gill and Crosby delivered their two-baggers back to back behind a hit batsmen to spark a three-run rally in the third. Chezies had picked up a pair in the first when G. Glaser and Bud Scheffel walked, Gil sacrificed and Shattan and Bush singled after an error.

"Link" Crosby stole home in the second inning and was rewarded with a gallon of ice cream donated by Johnny's Drive-In.

In the Chez Emile third, Gavin committed a two-base error on Bill Glaser's fly and the latter scored on a passed ball and infield out. Crosby reached first on Ferraro's error in the sixth and rode home on successive safeties by Scheffel and Bush to complete the scoring.

The boxscore listed below fails to show the at bats in proper fashion and does not include a complete summary of basehits.

Golden Bears Choice For Rowing Regatta

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24 (AP) —California's Golden Bears, proud Olympic champions, are rated the "crew to beat" tomorrow for varsity honors in the annual regatta on the Hudson.

Three other crews are figured capable of giving the Bears a fight to the finish in this 47th renewal of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association championship. They are Washington, the defending champion; Princeton and Wisconsin.

Grouped in a middle category—possible but not probable winners—are Stanford, University of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Navy and Cornell.

The other entries—Columbia, Rutgers and Syracuse—are considered in the race just for the ride.

Rule Heavy Choice

But a clear standout are the Bears from California, winners of nine straight varsity tests over a two-year span.

Ky. Ebbright, California coach, has been mildly optimistic since arrival here. The Bears hold wins over both Washington and Wisconsin, boatloads considered among the top entries.

The eight was second to Washington in last year's Toughkeepsie race but went on to cap the Olympic trials at Princeton and the championship in England.

According to available times for three-mile trials here, California has been 20 seconds faster than Washington.

Wisconsin, beaten by only eight feet in a dual race with Washington last Friday, should be a real contender in the race. Norman Sonja's Badgers are rangy and smooth and have shown steady improvement through the season. They are considered to be at a peak now.

Tigers Given Chance

Carrying the hope of the east are the Princeton rowers of Delos Schoch. The Princeton varsity has beaten every eight in the east, with the exception of mighty Harvard, during the season. The Tigers hold victories in the Childs Cup and Carnegie Cup regattas this spring.

The Washington junior varsity crew is one of the standouts in the Jayvee event while the U. W. frosh are a solid favorite. So a sweep of the river by Ulrickson-coached eights is not at all impossible.

Washington did it last year for the third time in the history of the race.

There will be thirty crews in the three races, 12 in the varsity, nine in the junior varsity and nine in the freshman varsity. The frosh event will start at 3 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) and the other races will follow at 45-minute intervals.

The 30 crews represent a record for the regatta, breaking the mark of 29 set last year.

Tennis Dates

The closing date for filing entries in the Kiwanis Club's Ulrickson county tennis tournament has been extended to Monday, June 27, at noon. N. Jansen Fowler announced today. He also stated that four reconditioned courts would be available for the tournament.

St. Louis—Charley Riley, 127½, 126½, Helsinki, Finland, 10.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Nick Barone, 178½, Syracuse, outpooled Phil Muscato, 189, Buffalo, 10.

Brooklyn (For Hamilton) —Filipe Pruden, 146½, St. Catharines, Ont., stopped Vinnie Rossano, 149, New York 3.

Will Reduce Taxes

New York, June 24 (AP)—The City Council yesterday voted to reduce real estate taxes for the 1949-50 fiscal year from $3.04 to $2.92 in Queens and from $2.97 to $2.96 in Staten Island for every $100 assessed value. The council did not change the previous rates of $2.97 for Manhattan, $2.96 for the Bronx and $3 for Brooklyn. The rates are calculated on a base rate set at $2.89 this year, plus assessments for local improvements in each borough.

Compton Gets Medal

Troy, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Dr. Karl T. Compton has been awarded the 1949 Lammie Medal for achievements in scientific and engineering education and "wise counsel to the president of the United States." The atomic scientist received the medal last night at the annual convention of the American Society for Engineering Education. The society has awarded the medal annually since 1923 to technical teachers of distinction.

Pontiac, Mich., was settled in 1818 and named after an Indian chief.

Yes Sir, Bill, they thought of Everything when they designed the Model "M" . . .

IT'S BUILT FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS THE BEST!

Anyone will tell you the John Deere Model "M" is a good-looking tractor, but that's only an outward indication of the real value "under the paint". For instance, where else can you get a built-in, easy-to-service hydraulic control like the John Deere Touch-a-matic?

And consider operator's comfort and safety. What other tractor for the smaller farms offers an adjustable air-cushion seat, adjustable steering wheel, and provision for the operator to stand safely?

Then, too, the Model "M" gives you the wide adaptability you want—it's a powerful, nimble, yet sure-footed and quick-turning tractor with full range of speeds from 1-5/8 up to 12 M.P.H.

And, as for equipment, no other tractor offers you so much value as the "M" and its complete line of Quick-Tatch working tools.

See us for full details. You'll agree—it will pay you to wait for a Model "M".
